

Save Your Cinema

My journey to help reopen the Cinerama Dome began in March 2021, when I learned that Pacific Theatres and ArcLight Cinemas would not be reopening. I quickly launched a petition calling on the Decurion Corporation to either reopen the Cinerama Dome themselves or lease the historic venue to another exhibitor. The petition gained more than 30,000 signatures and attracted significant media attention.

I also created social media accounts to raise awareness and build support for the campaign.

After repeated emails and phone calls to the owners went unanswered, I organized multiple rallies and protests to get their attention.

Eventually, I hired a professional projection-mapping engineer to project images of the owners' faces onto the Cinerama Dome, along with messages urging them to reopen the theater. Although the projection was shut down, footage of it went viral and generated even more attention for the campaign.

The response ultimately led a representative for the property owners to publicly acknowledge our efforts.

Just a few months later, I was contacted by Sony Pictures regarding its lease of the historic venue.

Written by Benjamin Steinberg /
Save Your Cinema

@SaveYourCinema on X
@SaveYourCinema_ on Instagram

From The Bar Vampiros Mexicanos

Save this one for your Halloween party: an amazing Mexican cocktail that pairs tequila with sangrita, and comes with a name that's already dressed up for the occasion.

1 cup ice cubes, or as needed • 3 oz sangrita (Mexican-style bloody mary mix with orange and lime) • 1 ½ oz silver tequila (100% agave) • 1 ½ oz citrus-flavored soda (such as Squirt) • ½ lime, juiced • 1 pinch Mexican-style chili-lime seasoning (such as Tajin.)

1. Fill a highball glass with ice cubes.
2. Pour in the sangrita, tequila, citrus soda, and lime juice.
3. Add the chili-lime seasoning and stir well.

Upcoming Event

JUKE JOINT NIGHT

HALLOWEEN SCREENING

Sinners (2025)

Maurice Smith &
The Magnolia Outlaws

Themed Drinks & Food

Costumes Encouraged

Oct 29 • 7:30pm
Desert 5 Spot

October Horror-scope

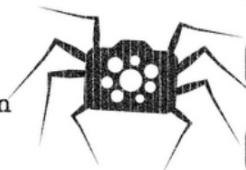

What Kind of Scream Queen (or King) are You This October?

Libra (Sep 23-Oct 22): The coven, The Craft

You run in a tight circle and you like it that way, and October has you leaning into it harder than usual: group costumes, group chats, group everything. Just be honest this month about who's actually in your coven versus who's just borrowing your candles. Not everyone deserves the ritual, and Libra season is exactly when you'll find out who does.

Scorpio (Oct 23-Nov 21): Pearl, Pearl

Happy season, Scorpio. Your birthday month arrives with big, unhinged, main-character energy, in a good way, mostly. Channel the intensity into the creative project you've been sitting on instead of into a confrontation you'll regret. Dance it out first, then decide if the confrontation still needs to happen.

Haunted Boulevard

TCL Chinese Theatre

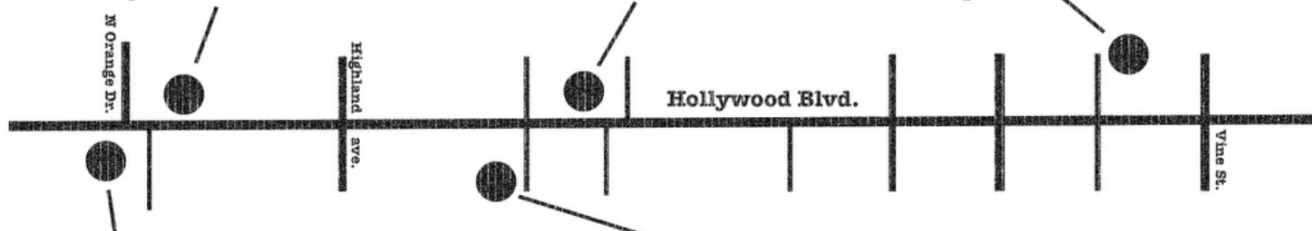

Everyone knows the handprints in the courtyard. Fewer know about Fritz, the ghost said to haunt the building: a disgruntled stagehand who reportedly died backstage and now spends his afterlife rearranging furniture and knocking on walls.

Musso & Frank Grill

Hollywood's oldest restaurant, open since 1919. Regulars have long claimed to catch Charlie Chaplin's reflection in the window near his old favorite booth. If you're getting dinner before a CineHaus screening, ask for booth #1.

Knickerbocker Hotel

The best true story on the Boulevard. On Halloween night in 1936, Harry Houdini's widow Bess held her final séance on the hotel's rooftop, trying to reach him from beyond. It really happened, no exaggeration required.

Hollywood Roosevelt Hotel

The most well-documented stop on this list. Room 928 is tied to actor Montgomery Clift, who stayed there for three months in 1953 while filming From Here to Eternity. Guests have reported hearing trumpet practice and pacing footsteps in the room ever since, a story confirmed by an actual Los Angeles Times feature, not just tour-guide lore.

Egyptian Theatre

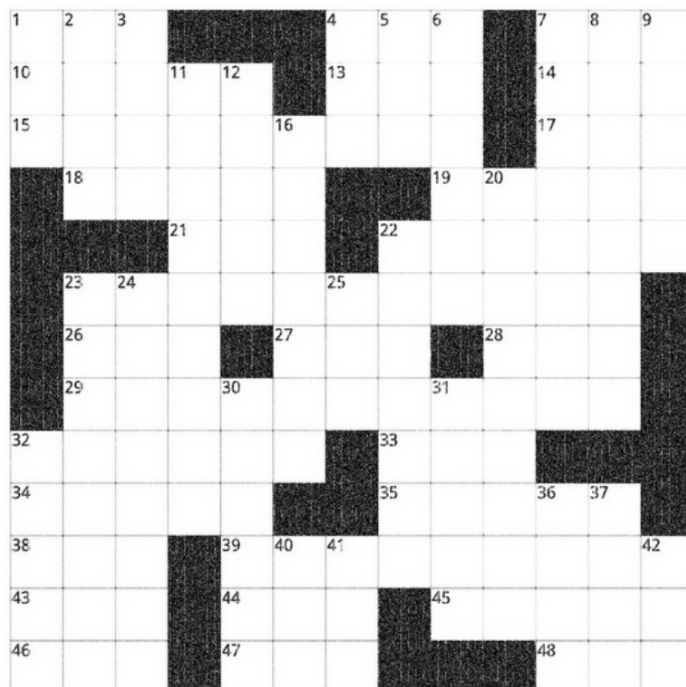

Sid Grauman opened this one in 1922, and it hosted Hollywood's first-ever movie premiere, Robin Hood, with Douglas Fairbanks in attendance. Closed after the 1994 Northridge earthquake and restored by the American Cinematheque in 1998, staff have since reported applause echoing through the empty auditorium: one set of hands, from a consistent spot, as if Grauman himself is still playing the appreciative host.

SEASON OF THE WITCH

ACROSS

- 1 Lass
- 4 Tolkien's Legolas, e.g.
- 7 Lbs. and ozs.
- 10 Bottomless chasm
- 13 "Mamma ___!"
- 14 Small island

- 15 What one might do in a haunted house when spooked
- 17 The Beatles' "___ Mine"
- 18 California-based wine and liquor store chain
- 19 Flirt with
- 21 U.K.'s continent: Abbr.

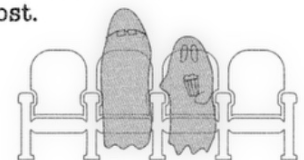

crossword by Olivia Leadbetter

- 22 Sauce type
- 23 It was a graveyard smash
- 26 Mich. neighbor
- 27 "That's gonna be ___ for me!"
- 28 "___ whiz!"
- 29 1988 gothic horror-comedy with award-winning makeup and a stage musical
- 32 Irish-themed Vegas casino
- 33 Massachusetts' Cape ___
- 34 Preppy collars
- 35 Horan of One Direction
- 38 "To be," in Spanish
- 39 Nightmarish film locale
- 43 -80 (old Radio Shack computer)
- 44 Hi-
- 45 Keep an ___ (watch)
- 46 Opposite of WNW
- 47 ___-AFTRA (labor union)
- 48 Chess piece: Abbr.

DOWN

- 1 (29A)?
- 2 Rhyme scheme of the first verse of "Mary Had a Little Lamb"
- 3 Harplike instrument
- 4 Moody music genre

- 5 Lucy of "Charlie's Angels"
- 6 Fully grasp
- 7 "Be right there!"
- 8 Chalamet of "Bones and All"
- 9 Shorthand pro
- 11 Number in a popular Stevie Nicks song title
- 12 Protagonist of the Metroid video game series
- 16 Max and Dani to the Sanderson sisters in "Hocus Pocus," say
- 20 Fictitious
- 22 "Iliad" warriors
- 23 Mafia members
- 24 Like a tiny town
- 25 Opposite of WSW
- 30 Shockers
- 31 Bring together
- 32 Sunset dirección
- 36 Allium vegetable
- 37 Italian cinematic hitman
- 40 Thompson of "Back to the Future"
- 41 Umami source, briefly
- 42 What dynamite is laced with in Dolly Parton's "Firecracker"